Mr. Brooks, of N. Y., then addressed the House in opposition to the pending bill. He retrewed the course, of tardf legislation of this Government from 1842 down to the present time, and contended that each succeeding tardf had increased over the former one, and this he consenued as wary. He called the attention of the House to the liberal policy of other countries are surpract with our (liberal policy). He instanced sail, coal, hides, issueber, pig from and other articles that were heavily taxed here, but which were compared with our fillberal policy.

He instanced sail, coal, hides, issueber, pig from and other articles that were heavily taxed here, but which were comparatively free in Europe. He denied the necessity of a high taril, for la his catimate the sorphus remons for the current year would reach at least one hondred and freshe million. Mr. B. quoted from arrival reports, commercial statistics of exports, imports, éee, to show
